Report: On 06-09-2022, the event titled "Empowering Students: How to Raise and Resolve Academic and Administrative Issues" was successfully organized for students. The seminar aimed to equip students with essential skills to address and navigate academic and administrative challenges. The event featured a series of workshops led by experienced faculty members and administrative staff who provided insights into effective communication strategies and problem-solving techniques. Participants engaged in interactive sessions that covered a range of topics, including how to articulate concerns clearly, the appropriate channels for raising issues, and strategies for conflict resolution. Keynote speakers emphasized the importance of understanding institutional policies and fostering constructive dialogue between students and administration. The event also included role-playing exercises, where students practiced handling real-life scenarios, and panel discussions where questions were answered by experts. Feedback from attendees was overwhelmingly positive, with many expressing newfound confidence in their ability to address academic and administrative matters effectively. Overall, the event served as a valuable resource for empowering students and enhancing their advocacy skills within the academic environment.

Report:

The lecture titled "Student Rights & Grievance Resolution Mechanisms" was organized on 4th November, 2023 aimed at raising awareness among students about their rights and the available mechanisms for addressing grievances. The event began with an introductory speech by the Dean Dr. Geetika Nagarth, who emphasized the importance of understanding student rights to ensure a fair academic environment. A panel of legal experts and university officials conducted sessions on topics such as academic freedom, the right to appeal grades, and anti-discrimination policies. They also highlighted the procedures for lodging complaints, including internal grievance committees and external legal options. Students actively participated in the Q&A session, voicing concerns about issues like unfair evaluations and discrimination. The seminar concluded with a discussion on the importance of maintaining open communication channels between students and administration. Attendees appreciated the session for clarifying key aspects of their rights and responsibilities, along with the steps for resolving conflicts.

Report:

The seminar titled "Gender, Power, and Harassment: Unpacking the Dynamics" was held on 16th February, 2023 for students, focusing on the complex interplay between gender roles, power structures, and harassment in various societal settings. Speakers explained how power dynamics often contribute to gender-based harassment in workplaces, academia, and public spaces. The event opened with an introduction to basic concepts of gender and power, followed by discussions on how these factors influence individuals' experiences of harassment. Case studies were presented, illustrating real-life examples of gender inequality and the impact of societal norms. An interactive Q&A session allowed students to engage with the speakers, raising critical questions about preventing harassment and promoting gender equality. The seminar concluded with actionable strategies for recognizing, confronting, and dismantling the power imbalances that perpetuate harassment, leaving students with a deeper understanding of the issue and its broader social implications.

Report: A lecture titled "Effective Student Grievance Handling: Policies & Procedures" was organized for students on 06/04/2023. The event aimed to educate participants on the proper methods of addressing student grievances and the institutional procedures in place for resolving them. Experts in student affairs, including the Dean of Students and faculty members, led the sessions, outlining the importance of a structured grievance system. They provided insights into the university's policies, emphasizing transparency, fairness, and timely resolution of issues. Participants were introduced to the various channels available for submitting grievances. Case studies were discussed, highlighting how effective grievance handling improves student satisfaction and institutional trust. A Q&A session at the end allowed students to raise concerns and seek clarifications on their rights and responsibilities. The seminar concluded with a call for fostering a supportive environment where student concerns are addressed promptly and justly. Feedback from attendees was overwhelmingly positive, reflecting the seminar's success in enhancing student awareness.
